DIRECTORS OF PORTERVILLE FAIR WILL START PLANNING FOR NO. 20

PORTERVILLE — Directors of the Porterville fair will meet before the end of January to start planning for No. 20 — the 20th annual fair to be presented as a three-day community event, May 18, 19, and 20, for benefit of 4-H club members, Future Farmers, business men — and just everyone who likes the atmosphere and excitement of an old-fashioned, country fair.

Board Chairman A.K. "Babe" Hodgson states that definite meeting date will be set this week and directors notified. He says that on the agenda will be a theme for the fair, discussion of new events and attractions, publishing of a premium book, upgrading of the fair grounds.

And directors are starting this year with somewhat more money in the bank than usual, since the 1966 fair was a good one from the standpoint of crowds and income to the fair.

Preliminary report by Bob Board, secretary-treasurer, shows that 1966 fair receipts were $16,582.18 while disbursements were $13,816.21. Bank balance on October 3, 1966 was $4,222.86, with another $90 in accounts receivable.

Following is the financial report by Board, also a complete accounting of all money spent.

COUNTY MANAGER GOVERNMENT?

Following up reports by the 1964 and 1965 grand juries, the present Grand Jury has recommended further study of a charter for Tulare county.

In a report issued last week, the 1966 Grand Jury says this jury should not and does not say whether or not a charter system is desired or needed in Tulare county; but it does believe studies should be furthered."

The Grand Jury advocates broadcasting of a report prepared by the county administrative officer into "whether or not a charter system would afford ways and means of improving and updating Tulare County government."

With this we fully agree.

And we suggest that the study be further broadened to include pro and con investigation on going all the way and converting the county to a management form of government under the new charter, if a new charter ever becomes a reality.

Changing any system of established government is not easy. But if Tulare county continues a serious study of charter government, it would be only a half-job if a county manager system is not included in the study.

EXETER - Senator Howard Way today announced the names of persons he has appointed to the Republican State Central Committee from the 15th Senate District, which he now represents in the state legislature.

Those from Tulare county are Virgil Goosen, Dinuba district rancher and Mrs. Ethel Prestage of Porterville, both of whom were re-appointed by Senator Way having served on the state committee by his previous appointment, and Mrs. Bette Goettle of Tulare.

Merced county has two appointees, Edward A. Jackson, M. D., Merced, who was county campaign chairman for Senator Way in the recent election, and Jim Hume, Dos Palos businessman and civic leader who served as Way's campaign chairman in Dos Palos.

Other appointees are Henry Bitter, Madera county rancher who was Way's campaign chairman in Madera; Bob Rader of Mariposa, businessman; and former State Senator William A. Symons, Jr. of Bishop, who represented Mono and Inyo counties in the senate before reapportionment.

The Republican State Convention will convene in Sacramento on January 15 for its official biennial organization meeting. The 1,035 voting members will organize to certify the membership, adopt standing rules and bylaws and elect permanent officers for a two year term. The Convention will be preceded on January 14 by an informal reception honoring Governor and Mrs. Reagan.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale January 27

The Girl Scouts of Lindsay, Strathmore, Porterville and throughout the Golden Valley Girl Scout Council are completing plans for their annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale. This year's Sale will again be of the advance-order type, the same as last year's highly successful sale. Starting January 27, the girls will be taking orders for 5 varieties of cookies. The same good mints, sandwich, scot-teas and savannah cookies as were sold last year, plus a new addition, Pixies, a crisp, buttery coconut. Order taking will close February 6.

Mrs. Helen Baggett, the local Cookie Chairman, said that delivery of cookies will then be made from March 3-13 and cash collected at that time. The cookies will cost 50¢ per box.

The sale provides Junior, Cadette, and Senior Girl Scout troops with the opportunity to earn funds for their projects as well as to provide additional funds for council maintained camp facilities and program for girls.

The Council has a goal of selling 120,000 packages within Fresno, Kings, Madera, and Tulare counties.

Total California production of feed grains in 1966 was 2,872,000 tons, four per cent greater than in 1965.

They tell us we should sell the sizzle and not the steak. If this is true we shouldn't mention the luscious fruit trees we have to sell but instead the delectable apricot cobbler, the fine apple pie, the fresh peaches and cream or maybe the persimmon pudding that comes from a home orchard. Of course it doesn't come directly and many a wife might fight the "opportunity" to prepare such things. Especially if she also has to prune the tree, fight the insects, and wrestle the gophers. All without receiving green stamps or even half of a simulated one dollar bill.

We have faith however that in true American frontier tradition you will carry on the family orchard. Indians may not be lurking just beyond the fence but the bark beetle is and he is a pretty hardy adversary. Besides that we have such a choice selection of valley grown and time proven trees you just shouldn't resist them. Also, as all true commercials say, "You must act quickly!" In this case because these trees are best planted while they are dormant and it likewise helps if your husband isn't too awake either.

There are other things available on "E" Street just north of Olive and you're invited to browse through them at any time. Whether they be shade trees, berries, or inexpensive bedding plants the selection is getting better every day. Most everything is labeled so you have a good chance of knowing what you're seeing and of estimating how many days you'll have to go without lunch to pay for it. Come soon, please.

Then how come your electric bill isn't lower today? You're using a lot more electricity. Would you believe that a typical home uses electricity 40 different ways? It's true.

Of course, the fact that many Edison shareholder-owners are customers as well provides us with added incentive. We have to do our level best to keep electricity abundant and low in cost. The "boss" is all around us.

Besides, we realize how many things you do that depend on electricity.

SUPER BOWL WILL DECIDE
ALL, THIS SUPER SUNDAY

They are calling it "Super Sunday" and I guess that it is. It's the big one, the showdown that has been too long in coming. It is going to settle a lot of questions and arguments and it will give the American football fan a true professional football champion. The meeting of the Green Bay Packers and the Kansas City Chiefs has to be the biggest thing to happen to pro football since Red Grange.

The National Football

League began in 1920 when about a dozen men met in an automobile agency in Canton, Ohio and laid the foundation for the league. The men paid $100 each for their franchises, but few really paid the money, many were given the franchise on the promise that they would field a team. A franchise in the NFL today costs in the neighborhood of five million dollars.

Pro football's history is bursting with the names of men who seem to be giants as their stories are told and retold. Jim Thorpe, the Oklahoma Indian whose slashing running probably kept pro football from dying shortly after birth. Red Grange, the elusive University of Illinois half-back who made $200,000 during an eight game tour with the Chicago Bears in 1925. Bronko Nagurski, the awesome Chicago fullback who ran over strong men like a run-away truck, Sammy Baugh, the Washington Redskin quarterback who gave the forward pass a home in professional football and made it a major weapon. These are just a few of the NFL's legendary figures.

Sunday the NFL puts its past and prestige on the line in a championship game with the American Football League, a conference that is short on legends, but increasingly good at playing football. It is a game that the fans wanted and it is a natural.

The National Football League sends their champions, the Green Bay Packers, into the fray. The Packers are probably the best football team in NFL history. They do everything well and play a brand of football that is best described as basic and brutal. Packer Coach Vince Lombardi says that football is blocking and tackling and that the team that does these two things best usually wins. His Packer offense is one that does nothing fancy. It just runs over people. The defense is completely organized, very big in the line, fast, and best of all, it makes very few mistakes. To beat Green Bay you have to take the ball away from them and they are the best football team in pro ball at keeping the ball for long, time consuming touchdown drives.

Kansas City is, in many ways, a radically different team from Green Bay. Their offense is spectacular. They hit quickly, from far out. Their backs are speedy game-breakers. Len Dawson, Chief quarterback, does everything that a pro quarterback has to do and is very good at killing you with the long strike. Defensively the Chiefs are very big, quick, and the best in the AFL. But, how are they going to stack up with the most devastating offense in the National Football League?

I have to take Green Bay in this big one. I think that the Packers have been together too long, are too good, and will simply make fewer mistakes. Who are you taking?

Heading and Heeling

by John R. Kotchevar

Out of the annals of Western history have evolved some of the most rambunctious sports known to man. One of these sports which is more popular than the rest in our area is team roping. On Sunday afternoons when most people go for a drive or sit around home watching the T.V. set, some people gather around the arena for an afternoon of heading and heeling. The afternoon starts off with a shakeup pot, which is when the cowboys put their names in a box and a singular person draws out two at a time designating partners for the first steer in a go-around. When the partners are both ready the signal is given and the steer is let out of the chute; when he crosses the barrier the flag is dropped and the riders are in hot pursuit, the object of their mad chase down the arena is for one rider to get his lariat over the horns of the steer and then to stop him in a position where the other rider can get his lariat around one or both of the rear hoofs. A miss by either man is greeted by cat-calls from the crowds, and admonitions from his partner. The whole thing from start to finish is timed, and the best time in the go-around is the winner.

These boys, the language they use in talking about their work, and the very equipment they use, is the same as the cowboys used over a 150 years ago before automation had ever put the country on wheels.

There are specific rules these boys follow, some being: when the rider in the box, who will be the one to catch the head of the steer, is ready to start he nods his head at the barrier boy who turns the steer loose. If the header breaks out before the barrier is dropped he gets a 10 second penalty; if the heeler only catches one rear hoof it costs him 5 seconds penalty; a throw that ends up in a figure 8 around the horns is an illegal catch and the desired catch is around the horns, not around the neck although this is accepted.

These boys who turn out on weekends have a lot of fun, almost as much as the spectators watching, so if you want an afternoon of excitement look up some of these places and go out for a visit, there are several in the Porterville area.

WITH A GRAIN OF SALT

Peg Cole & Lady Bird with seven maids with seven mops, committees, commissions & meetings. Fact remains, Ruth, YOUR TOWN is dirty. Worst, the Chamber of Commerce parking lot. Out-of-bounds for street sweeping machines?

A hero swept Division by hand last week so that's done for '67. We can spend our civic energy on cleaning lake shores for loafers since we got rid of that college responsibility (all but tax.)

Recognize that symbol? Used to have a lamb or other animal to go with it. THINKERS have been saying that our object of worship is changing nation-wide. Certainly Porterville is leading the parade. When we are not so swamped rushing around delivering pills we will write an article and take pictures and make the place famous.

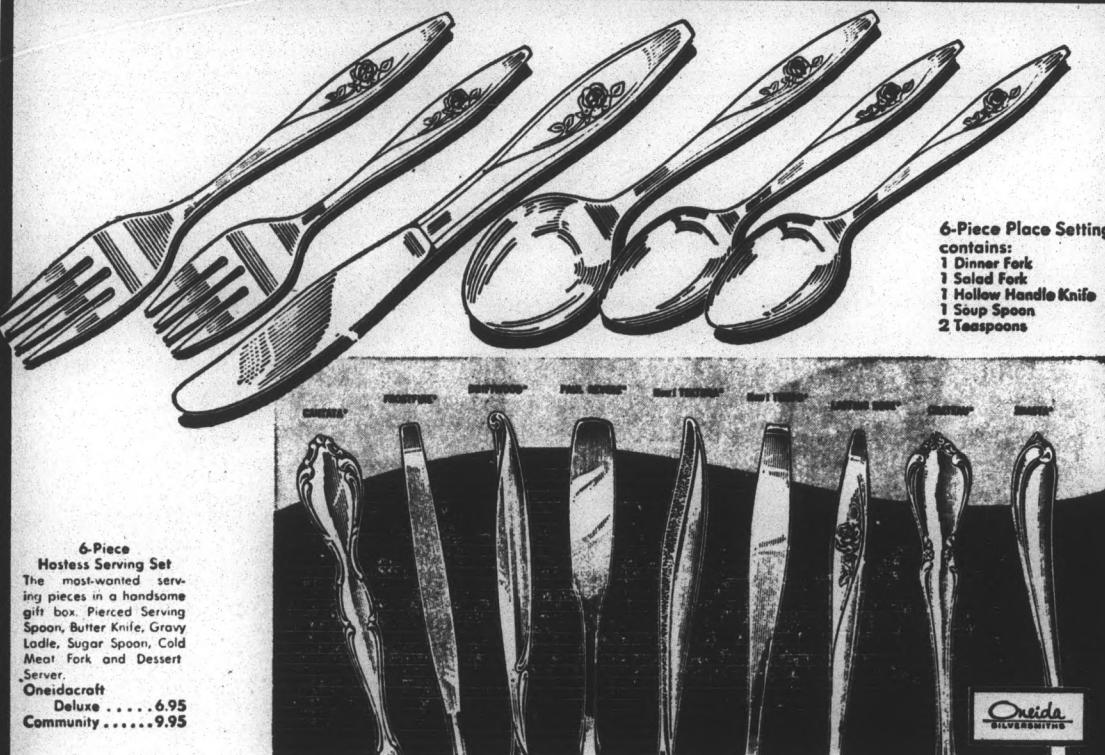

You can see it all for yourself in the meanwhile. Drive out to Henderson & 65. Dorothy Olson and the other gals will have to start practicing cutting-out anew.

Ken Leesch is our personal man-of-the-year. From him the Best Xmas present...an answer for the usual wise-crackers. When Ken was pruning he got the usual request to "do mine when you finish yours". His prompt reply, "Sure, bring 'em over, I don't want to mess up your yard."

Thanks, thanks, it works! Can hardly wait to get out to the store windows again.
